

Property Risk Engineering Services

Swiss Re Corporate Solutions provides risk engineering expertise to help corporate customers manage their property risk. With a dedicated account risk engineer assigned as a single point of contact, customers receive a custom service plan. The account risk engineer coordinates risk surveys, prioritises property risk improvement opportunities and acts as a consultative resource for existing or future projects.

Our services

Swiss Re Corporate Solutions delivers tailored risk assessment reports that meet or exceed our clients' risk evaluation and informational needs. These reports include evaluations of:

- key loss exposures, including business interruption
- construction, occupancy and protection
- natural catastrophe exposure and protection
- human element or property conservation management programmes
- loss estimate scenarios (eg, MFL)
- opportunities for property risk improvements (recommendations)

Additional services

- Tailored stewardship meeting and report – to summarise and review performance objectives and risk reduction priorities from an account perspective.
- Impairment handling – monitoring and managing impairments to fire protection systems.
- Jurisdictional inspections – key object inspections in order to meet statutory requirements (US and Canada).
- Project & plan review – to help ensure compliance with risk engineering best practices and applicable codes (eg, automatic sprinklers, new construction, etc).

Our goal

Our goal is to provide world class property risk engineering services for our clients. By combining clients' experience with our expertise and skills, Swiss Re Corporate Solutions applies industry best practices to develop tailored solutions to meet your service needs.

Our team

We have an experienced and knowledgeable team of professionals with sound risk engineering expertise. With offices around the world, our global reach allows us to understand and apply both local and worldwide recognised standards.
