

Engineering & Construction

Swiss Re Corporate Solutions offers tailor-made, industry-specific risk transfer solutions to our corporate clients across the globe. Our Engineering & Construction team offers project-specific insurance solutions based on technical engineering excellence and delivers industry-leading products, services and expertise to its clients.

Our business

Our core business is the insurance of complex on-shore construction projects worldwide, including the following areas: oil, gas, petrochemical, liquefied natural gas, nuclear, power and utilities, tunnels, infrastructure, buildings, dams, ports and bridges. In addition, we offer innovative financial service solutions through our network of affiliated broker dealers.

We are committed to working closely with our clients throughout the cycle of a project, from defining and establishing insurance requirements to its completion. Regardless of size and complexity, our engineering experts can provide customised solutions to our clients around the world.

Our capacity

We offer among the highest capacity available in the marketplace, based upon the Swiss Re Group's diversified portfolio and strong financial rating. Our capacity deployment is dependent upon risk quality, location(s) and occupancy.

Our project-specific solutions can incorporate elements such as:

- Construction, erection and builder's all risk
- Delay in start-up
- Third-party liability (primary), except United States, Canada, Australia
- Contractors plant and equipment
- Existing assets

Additionally, we can provide access to products including Marine, Liability, Offshore, Property and Casualty, as well as to other underwriting teams within Swiss Re Corporate Solutions.

Our value proposition

- Recognised lead insurer
- Technical ability to fully engage with project personnel
- Responsive to the fluid nature of construction projects
- Ability to apply Swiss Re group capacity
- Commitment throughout the project life cycle
- Provision of independent risk management program to complement insured's own program
- Feedback of insurance industry lessons learnt

Our team

Our highly qualified team, located in London, Zurich, Singapore, Miami, New York, Toronto, Mexico City and Sao Paulo, and Sydney, is comprised of multidisciplinary engineering underwriters with significant prior industry experience.
