QCheck

Exclusive to SwissRe Trade Credit Policyholders

What is QCheck?

SwissRe's Trade Credit team has developed QCheck to help you assess the creditworthiness of Australian and New Zealand* customers within your Discretionary Credit Limit. It is therefore a real alternative to trade references and mercantile agent reports.

Whether you wish to increase the credit line with an existing customer or evaluate a new customer, QCheck will assess them and issue you with a QCheck Opinion, which serves as justification within your Discretionary Credit Limit. Amounts can be requested up to the value of your Discretionary Credit Limit or up to $100,000, whichever is the lower.

* Only if it is an approved country on the Policy.

How could my business benefit from QCheck?

- Fast response time: No need to wait for trade references or obtain mercantile agent reports. QCheck Opinions are delivered via email usually immediately, otherwise within 48 hours.
- Reliable: Thanks to our expertise in assessing companies.
- Easy: No need to read through a long report, we issue you with an amount.
- Cost-effective: $60 plus GST per QCheck Opinion (payable quarterly in arrears). Valid for 12 months and subject to the QCheck Service Terms and Conditions.

How do I get started?

For further information about QCheck or how our products can help you, please contact your insurance broker or SwissRe Trade Credit. Alternatively go to https://corporatesolutions.swissre.com/insurance-solutions/credit-surety/trade-credit-insurance/.
